EXPERIENCE

FREELANCER ON UPWORK Internet, upwork.com

Front End Developer

11.2015 - Today

Working as a freelancer, I'm involved in various interesting projects as a Front End Developer, sometimes as a Team Lead.

Often there are simple projects that I do in 1-3 days, but sometimes there are projects for a few months.

The complexity of freelancing is that often customers can't define a task, in this case I help them do it.

One example is the project diamondcityjets.com. Originally the task was simple - to make a few static pages. But when I did it, the customer wanted to change many things and to program a multi-lingual website on WordPress. Also the participation of a PHP-programmer was required for the realization of some modules. In this case, I acted as a Team Lead: I found a programmer, and together with the client's designer, we implemented this project. I did the Front End Development, set tasks to the programmer and the designer and controlled the result.

GRUZOPOISK Russia, Moscow, gruzopoisk.ru
Front End Developer, UI/UX Designer, Team Leader
10.2014 - 11.2015

Gruzopoisk is a Russian startup in the field of online-logistics, marketplace of goods and transport.

In this project I did technical tasks as a Front End Developer and UI/UX-designer.

I was also engaged in setting and controlling tasks, developing marketing strategies, email-marketing, A/B-testing, building customer relationships. Under my leadership there were two programmers, marketing specialists, two specialists of customer service.

The whole development was carried out according to the concept of Agile.

OORRAA Russia, Moscow, oorraa.com
Front End Developer
04.2014 - 10.2014

OORRAA is an e-commerce project, marketplace of products (clothes, shoes, accessories).

I was invited in to this project at the very beginning of its development. My task was to develop all pages of the project. The peculiarity of my task was to develop a frontend according to MobileFirst methodology.

The whole development was carried out according to the concept of Scrum.

DUDU COMMUNICATIONS United Arab Emirates, Dubai, dudu.com
Front End Developer
03.2013 - 04.2014

In the past DUDU were a multilingual social network, which was popular in the Middle East.

Here, I developed the Front End for the whole social network and some auxiliary projects.

It was a multilingual project, so I needed to provide RTL for Arabic and other languages.
